THE UNION LEAGUE CLUB.

The Union League Club held a special meet-In a last night in the theater of the Club-House to consider a series of resolutions condemning the Income Tax and appealing to Congress for its abolition. These were affered at the regular monthly meeting a week previous, and for their consideration the present meeting was tailed. The attendance was considerably larger than usual, and the feeling of the members was manifestly very general and decided in favor of the resolutions. The debate was not protracted, no one opposing them excepting Dr. Lieber, and he only some of them and on special grounds. Resolved, That in the opinion of this Club the best interests of the people require a careful revision of the National Tax list, an equalization of taxation, and a reduction of taxes to the lowest point consists twith the preservation of the public faith.

Resolved, That the act of Congress providing that the Income Tax "shall be leviced until and including 1870 and no longer," is a solemn compact with the people, which good faith requires should be sacredly observed. Reserved, That nothing in the foregoing resolutions is intended to indicate a diminished conviction that payment of the public debt and the return to specie payment ought to take place as speedily as possible.

THE FRANKING BILL

SUMNER (Rep., Mass.) said he was opposed to the bill in its present crude and defective form.

Mr. THFON (Rep., Neb.) addressed the Senate in explanation of his views, claiming that the people were entitled to the privilege of communicating with their representatives free of cost, and that liberal allowances of postage stamps would not effect any saving to the Government.

affording unauthorized persons less opportunity to commit frauds in the forgery of franks and otherwise.

Mr. STEWART (Rep., Nev.) said that it was generally admitted that the bill ought not to pass without a subsituate to take the place of the franking system, and in the brief period of the session yet remaining Congress would not have an opportunity to pass the necessary supplemental legislation. He advocated the postponement of the measure until next session to give members an opportunity of consulting their constituents upon it. The passage of the bill had been urged by some Senators as a means of punishing the House for the hasty and ill-conditioned manner in which it sent the bill to the Senate.

Mr. HOWE (Rep., Wis.) advocated the passage of the bill without delay or amendment, remarking that he had been in favor of the abolition of the franking privilege for six years. He replied at length to the arguments against the bill, doubting the sineerity of the arguments that the privilege was necessary to enable members to disseminate intelligence, inasmuch as Congress was not a convocation of schoolmasters.

Mr. VICKERS (Dem., Md.) gave notice of a motion to recommit the bill to the Postal Committee with instructions to report a bill securing the Post-Oilice from frauds and abuses, providing for a substitute or a reasonable exercise of the tranking privilege by persons now entitled to it, and to inquire whether the privilege can be curtailed and postage reduced without detriment to the

Mr. BAYARD (Dem., Del.) criticised the efforts of the Postmaster-General in agritating the repeal by means of circulars and petitions as a cheap and spurious bid for popularity. He hoped such action would be considered by Congress, and that an officer of the Cabinet who un dertook to coerce Congress would be answered as he de-served.

At 4:40 o'clock the Senate voted upon Mr. Stewart's motion to postpone the surject till next session, and it was rejected—Yeas, 17: Nays, 34.

Mr. DRAKE's amendment, continuing the present provisions of the law relative to the free transmission of newspapers, was adopted—Yeas, 26: Nays, 17.

Mr. MORRILL (Rep., Vt.) offered his amendment continuing the franking privilege to persons upon whom it was specially conferred by law, in the Excentive Departments and the Agricultural Department, remarking that his object was to take away the franking privilege from all members of Congress and from postmasters.

Mr. SUMNER (Rep., Mass.) gave notice that he would move a substitute for the entire bill.

Without a vote on the pending amendment, the Senate adjourned.

Mr. SCHENCK (Rep., Ohio), from the Committee of Ways and Means, reported the bill to abolish the duty on coal, and to put it on the free list in this form: "Coal, bituminous and of every other kind."

The bill was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

THE CUBAN RESOLUTIONS.

The House then proceeded to vote on the Cuban resolutions, the first vote being on Mr. Logan's amendment to construct the Neutrality bill so as to give to both contending parties the same advantages of intercourse and trade with the United States, consistent with the law of mitions, that have been or may be conceded to the Government of Spain. Rejected—Yeas, 77; Nays, 10!

The next vote was on the following substitute offered yesterday by Mr. Bingham:

That the President is hereby authorized to remonstrate against the barbarous manner in which the war in Cuba has been confucted, and, if he shall deem it expedient, to solicit the coheration of other Governments in such measures as he may deem necessary to secure from both contending parties an observance of the laws of war recognized by all civilinal nations.

Pending the vote, Mr. MAYNARD (Rep., Tenn.) moved that the whole subject be hald on the table, Rejected— 23 to 94.

The resolution, as amended, was then agreed to, so hat Mr. Bingham's amendment is the form in which the subject in the condition in which the that Mr. Bingham's amendment is the resolution has passed.

Mr. KELSEY (Rep., N. Y.), from the Conference Committee on the Pension Appropriation bill, reported that the Committee had not been able to agree, the Senate insisting on striking out the appropriation for naval pensions, and leaving them to be paid out of the Naval Pension fend, which is kept apart. In the Navy Department, and the House insisting on their being paid like all other pensions, and on the Naval Pension fund being covered into the Treasury.

After considerable debate the House refused to concur with the Senate by Yeas 65 to Nays 85, and insisted upon its own position.

It was agreed to.

Mr. WHEELER (Rep., N. Y.), Chairman of the Committee on the Pacific Railroad, reported a bill granting to the Utah Central Railroad Company the right of way through the public lands for the construction of a railroad and telegraph from Ogden City to Salt Lake City.

After an explanation by Mr. WHEELER, the bill was passed.

passed.

Mr. WHEELER also reported a bill granting the Island of Yerba Buens, or Gent Island, in San Frencisco Bay, to the Western Pacific Raliroad Company, for a terminus, provided that half of the Island shall be reserved to the United States for fortifications and military purposes, and that nothing in the bill shall impair the lawful or equitable rights of private persons to the Island.

purposes, and that nothing in the bill shall import the lawful or equilable rights of private persons to the Island.

Mr. WHEELER explained and advocated the bill.

Mr. KNOTT (Dem., Ky.) moved to amend by requiring payment to the Government of $2.000,000, and advocated the amendment. He was informed that the Island was werth $5.000,000, and that if put up at a sheriff's safe to merrow the first bid would set $1.000,000, and he thought that if there was any corporation en earth that was asing to buy and pay for if, it was that enormous corporation. Mr. ANTELL (Dem., Cal.) supported the bill, and reminded the House that there was no proposition from the Government to sell that Island. One-had of it, with a railroad to and across it, would be more valuable to the Government than the whole Island was now. It would be a great public convenience, and those who opposed the bill opposed the true interests of San Francisco and the true interests of the Government.

Mr. MAYNARD (Rep., Tenn.) offered an amendment requiring the Company to creek, whenever necessary, 3 drawbridge over such part of the channel as the engineer of the Department may direct. Agreed to.

Mr. HOLMAN (Dem., Ind.), in order to defeat the bill, moved an adjournment. Negatived.

Mr. HOLMAN then moved to lay the bill on the table. Negatived by Yeas, 65; Nays, 95.

The previous question was seconded.

The vote was then taken on Mr. ENOTT'S amendment requiring a payment of $200,000,000, and it was rejected.—Yeas, 75; Nays, 91.

After several votes by Yeas and Nayson various propositions connected with the bill, Mr. WASHBURN (Rep., Wis), asked for fifteen minutes to state his objections to it. Mr. WOCO (Dem., N. Y.) suggested that, if it were in order to order to order to order to gote for his to offer two millions for the Island pro-

Mr. WOOD (Dem., N. Y.) suggested that, if it were in morder for him to offer two millions for the Island proposed to be given away to this railroad company, he would now make that proposition to the Government.

Mr. MUNGEN (Dem., Ohio) said he would "see" that, and "go" hair a million better, paying the money in ten uring an interruption to the voting, Mr. DAWES,

During an interruption to the voting, sit. DAWLS, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported a bill to allow 86 per day to registers and sheriffs in the Fith Military District, which was passed.

On motion of Mr. DENTALLY the Senate amendments to the bill declading the duties of Pension Agents, etc., were non-concurred in, mai a Committee of Conference rdered. The House then, at 4:40 o'clock, adjourned, the SPEAK Univeralish Church celebrated the thirty-fourth anniversary of the dedication of their church, lastevening by a social gathering and straw-berry festival. The President of the Society, Mr. Q. McAdam, presided, and introduced first, the Secretary, Mr. David J. Stagg, who made a very interesting report. The amount of money raised in the Society during the past year has been more than $16,000, and the increase in the number of pew-holders about 30 per cent; this increase is in addition to the heavy losses that the society yearly sustains from removals. It was unanimously voted to increase the salary of the minister, the Rev. E. C. Sweetser, $500, and to make him a present of $500 as a taken of anyte-failion.

The Society then presented to its Secretary, Mr. David The Society then presented to its Secretary, Mr. David J. Stagg, who was also one of its founders, a set of complimentary resolutions, beautifully engrossed and framed, and expressing in appropriate terms the thanks of the Society for his efficient and long-continued labors in its behalf, and especially in raising the money with which the Church debt has been canceled. After remarks by Mr. McAdam, the Rev. Mr. Pullman of the Tairty-fifth-st. Church, and the Rev. Dr. Moses Ballou, formerly pastor of the Church and now settled in Philadelphia, the people turned their attention to the refreshments which had been provided, and at about 1930 o'clock adjourned.

The cooperative enterprise of the German United Cabinetmakers appears to be a successful one. Section 1 has completed 25 good houses, worth each from $2,000 to $4,000, and the building of a double-track railroad through the principal street of the settlement, to be called Broadway, is in contemplation. The Section also owns a public park. A Building Association has been formed, to continue the building of houses on shares on the plan of the Farmer Association. Section 2 has only 58 more lots to dispose of, payments at the rate of $2 per week.

RED STOCKINGS VS. RESOLUTE. A very pleasant game was played yesterday at Waverley, N. J., between the Red Stockings and Resolutes of Elizabeth. The match was more a friendly one than anything else. Below is the full score:

The Commercial says:

Thus, after a hundred straight victories, our champions have auffered a single discomfiture. Those who understand the game have assurance ample to coarmee them that this counter was a buildination. The ness of the defeat was received here with surprise, and we may observe that the surprise was not of an agreeable character. However, we were glid to have the manly assurance of the President of our Club that the guine was a great one, and it was especially crustifying that he stated oparrell our defeat, and made no complaint. This slight reverse only shows that the Red Sinchings are not absolutely and uncer all circumstances in which has a first of their games.

ANNUAL EXCURSION OF THE SEVENTH

Rock, would be ready to convey the members on their annual excursion. On reaching the dock the veterans were informed that owing to the weather, the carpenters and painters were unable to finish repairing the boat by the time agreed on. This announcement was re-ceived with suspicion by many, who declared that Fisk was determined to take his own regiment, the 9th, on the first trip made by the new steamer. The excursionists ombarked on the Jessie Hoyt, and at a little past 9 o'clock the gang-plank was drawn in, and while the band played a fively air Miss Hoyt moved into the band played a fively air Miss Hoyt moved into the stream.

The morning was delightfully pleasant and the nir exhilarating. The steamer's prow pierced the dimpled sea and threw out long furrows of sparkling brine, while on either side the green shores of two islands slipped noiselessly away into the morning mist. Ships from distant lands were passing and scores of tiny sail-boats danced in the studight as the wind freshened. On board the Jessie Hoyt there was a merry company, and it seemed but a little time before the tow-line was thrown out on the Monmouth Junction Pier. A long train of cheap cars were waiting, and 560 veterans of the National Guard were soon scated in the cane-bottomed chairs which had been substituted for cushioned scats. When all were ready the band played, and then the train moved down the pier. A short ride through a level country with numerous villages, surrounded by maples and sweet-scented clover fields, brought the excursionists to the sea. Long Branch was arrayed in its usual Spring costume of paint and pine. Innumerable vehicles of infinite capacity were at the depot, with open doors. All the drivers were smiling, and their pockets were almost invisible. The sight of eight well-loaded cars made the rustic multitude rejoice, until the "soldier boxs" "fell in," and took up their line of march for the hotel.

Wednesday was the opening day at the Branch, and doors. All the drivers were smiling, and their pockets were almost invisible. The sight of eight well-loaded cars made the rustic multitude rejoice, until the "solder boxs" 'fell in," and took up their line of march for the hotel.

Wednesday was the opening day at the Branch, and only a very few people were there. The regiment marched in front of the Continental Hotel, where they were dimissed for dinner-or rather for a monster-clam bake which was announced for 2 o'clock.

For the benefit of those who are ignorant of the manner in which a clam-bake is prepared, a few words of description will not be out of place. In the back yard a large pit 12 feet in diameter and three feet deep is dug—and 20 tuns of cobble-stones are put down in layers over the bottom, leaving a smooth floor of stone. A large quantity of wood is then burned until the stones are thoroughly heated. When the proper temperature is obtained, the fire is raked off, and a thin layer of sea-weed is spread over the heated surface. Several wagon-loads of clams are then put on, after which come lobsters, crabs, fish, potatoes, chickens, and finally a covering of sea-weed and canvas. Yesterday, there were about 300 chickens wrapped in brown paper, and when the canvas was removed dense clouds of steam poured out of the calinary pit.

A small army of cooks presided at the opening of the pit, and with wonderful celerity they carried the smoking fish and potatoes into the dining-room. The members of the regiment marched to the tables in good order, and then sat down to the feast which had been prepared at an expense of about $1 for each person. Much has been said about luxurious clam-bakes, but had the epicurean dreamers who write so much in behalf of clam-bakes been present yesterday, they would have seen the end of all their glowing fancies. Confidentially, clam feasts are tantalizing to a hungry person, and they remind one of chewing Morocco scraps fried in oil. The 300 chickens which were so lavisally served were not done, nor was the fish. Much complai lution, which was put upon file, embodying the above suggestions.

Police Commissioner Henry Smith was thanked for giving to the Department, on Tuesday, the steamer Mary I'owell to make an inspection of the docks, and President Agnew took occasion to say that the Commissioners did not make the excursion that they might witness the yacht race.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH CONFERENCE, The Quarterly Conference of the Congrega-ional Churches of New-York, New-Jersey, &c., was held yestorday afternoon and evening, in the Orange Valley Congregational Church, about five miles from Newark. Each of the churches was represented by the paster and six lay delegates, who, with the persons from this city partiake of a collation provided by the coegregation of the Orange Church, and spread beneath a spacious test adjacent to the chifice.

On reassembling in the evening, a discussion was introduced on "The spirit of the Pilgrians in its adaptation to our times." In the absence of the Rev. Dr. Thompson of New York, the Rev. Mr. Clapp opened the subject. He wished to be like the Rev. Mr. Beecher and the Rev. Dr. Siorris, true pilgrians of the nineteenth century. The first examples of the men of our time are to be found among the lineal descendants of the Pilgrin Fathers. Their perfect ideas of the freedom and subline dignity of the soul led the Fathers to love republicanism as a form of government both in the Church and State. The speaker closed by paying a tribute to the virtue, intelligence and genius of the people of New-England.

The Rev. Mr. Striebe followed and said there were as many empty sleeves among the Puritans as any other class or sect in America. The negro, from his peculiar adaptation to religion, invites New-England missionary zeal. They should wage a moral war against the Southern politicians for the resence of the negro from his degradation.

The discussion was terminated by the Rev. Mr. Brown, who gave a very interesting sketch of the history of the Pilgrims in New-Jersey.

After a motion was adopted that the next Conference be held to the Church of the Pilgrime, Brooklyn, the exercises were ended in the usual manner.

THE MEANING OF THE VERDICT.

THE MEANING OF THE VERDICT.

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher writes as follows under the above head in The Christian Union of June 18?

Higher and wider than all debates about persons is the question which has suggested our title, What is the Meaning of that Verdict I Let the public look at this question and understand it. What was the case on which that verdict was given I Daniel McFarland killed Albert D. Biehardson, Months before he had altempted to do so, but had failed. The second time he was successful. In both attempts the motive was the same—vengeance for a certain bijury which he supposed himself to have suffered, and of which he believed Richardson to be the author. In other words, he took it upon himself to execute justice, according to his own view of the facts, on a criminal. There was no doubt that Richardson was killed, no doubt that McFarland killed him, no doubt that the killing was intentional. It was as clear a case of killing with delib-

REGIMENT.

At an early hour yesterday morning the members of the 7th Regiment N. G., marched down Broadway and Murray-st, to the Long Branch boat. The Committee of Arrangements had been assured several days before by Mr. Fisk, that the new steamer, Plymouth arison, but simply that he ought not to be punished for that killing. The lesson of the verifiet, if we put it into the form of a general proposition, is that any man who has as much reason as McFarland had to believe that his wife has been seduced from her fidelity to him, has a right to do what McFarland did. Is this really law in the State of New-York I we answer, Yes. Such is the decision. Other verdicts of the same purport are fresh in the people's memory. The jury in this case had been freshly reminded of the precedents; and they gave their verdict accordingly, thus making one more precedent to determine the law. In the State of New-York, and in other States of this Union, the law is that an adulterr may be punished with deeth, at the discretion and by the hands of the injured husband?

A statute to punish adultery with a three years' term of service in the Penitentiary would put an end to the old method of punishing by the goel, or "avenger of blood." Let such a statute be enacted, and enforced in even a few instances, and there will be no more verdicts like that in the case of McFarland. Public justice, inflicting due punishment on criminals, is the effectual and only method of suppressing private vengeance.

THE SACREDNESS OF MARRIAGE AND CHRISTIAN CHARITY.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, in an article on 'Christian Women," in the last number of the same pa per, says:

"Christian Women," in the last number of the same paper, says:

Far from being a judicial inquiry into the facts of the murder of Albert D. Richardson, the recent criminal trial has been turned into a bitter attack upon a defense-less and suffering woman.

'Having carefully read the affidavit of Mrs. Richardson, we can see in it only evidence that a much tried woman in circumstances of great hardship and perplexity has in certain respects lamentably erred in judgment. We feel it of the utmost importance here to say that the sensitiveness of the community in regard to the enduring sacredness of the community in regard to the enduring sacredness of the marriage bond is a just and a wholesome state of feeling. No combination of trial and temptation can make it right and proper for a man or a woman to enter on arrangements looking toward another marriage, while the legal relation with a living partner yet remains undissolved. This whole domain of marriage ought to be guarded by laws as inflexible as those of nature—and if like these they bear severely on individuals, individuals must be content to suffer for the good of the whole. Remissness here threatens interests too terribly sacred to admit of the least trifling, and even with tears in our eyes for the tempted sufferer, we must be firm to the enunciation of principle.

'The Christian way is stated by St. Paul: "Beloved, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye that are spiritual restore such an one in the spirit of meetiness, considering ourselves. Under the torture, of the rack, with every muscle stretched, and every nerve quivering, principle often may become bewildered, and even religious faith may give out in a wild and agonizing cry for relief. Such a terrible marriage as that revealed in Mrs. Richardson's story is a rack—a lingering torture that may well have confused head and heart, and the briveest and strongest of us. We who have lived shielded and cherished by domestic love, may well trenble to think whether under the same trial we should have done even a

PENNSYLVANIA STATE SUNDAY-SCHOOL CON-VENTION.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 15 .- About 430 delegates were present at the meeting, this morning, of the State Teachers' Association. The crowded attendance indicated an increasing interest. The singing is quite remarkable; every person in the congregation joins in Mr. Smith, the gentleman who built Booth's Theater and the Park Bank, invited a number of the company to visit his residence, two miles south of the town. Horses and carriages were provided free of expense, and the trip was the feature of the day.

Returning, the guests were met by Edwin Adams, the actor, who invited them to his cottage. The offer was accepted, and both Mr. Adams and his wife gave them a very cordial reception. Others called at the residence of Mr. Van Wyck. Returning to the hotel at 5 o'clock, the regiment reembarked, and in a few hours the veterans were again marching over the granite blocks of Broadway.

DEPARTMENT OF DOCKS.

The Commissioners of the Department of Docks met yesterday, and Commissioner Wood said that it was his belief that the bonds of the Department, maturing as they did thirty years hence, were to be issued at too high a rate of interest, and to be disposed of at too low a figure. We shall probably spend $50,000,000 at least on the docks, and we shall get the bonds through in at least ten years. I think that we should make up our minds to let them go at 6 per cent for 30 years, payable principal and interest in gold, and save at least $10,000,000 to the City.
